

PSHE – lesson 2

- As some of our year group are in school in key worker bubbles but not necessarily with their teacher and many of you are at home we wanted to do something that would help us still feel all part of the same class.
- We want to make a flag which would be made up of smaller flags made by each of you. Can each of you think of a value that you feel is important and write it on a small 'flag'. We will then put them together to make one big flag. If you do this activity please send me your finished flag (they can just be emailed) and we will print them out and add them to the flags we are doing in class. By doing this we hope it will remind each child that they are part of something bigger and that they belong.
- See the picture on next slide for ideas.
