

Friday lessons

It's the end of another busy week of home learning. We hope you have enjoyed reading and writing about Hippocrumps, learning your days of the week in French and finding out about different types of skeleton. We have!

ENGLISH – Today we are finishing writing our non – chronological reports about Hippocrumps. Work out the success criteria and write the final three sections from the plan that you made earlier this week. Keep checking that you are covering as much of the success criteria as you can, that will make your work exciting to read. Please email us your completed report. We would love to read it! MATHS – It's Fluency Friday! You'll be using your knowledge of adding, subtraction, division and multiplication to help you answer the linked questions. There's more information on the PowerPoint and a worksheet for you to complete.

GUIDED READING – read the text and answer the questions. Please email your completed sheet to Year3@stpauls-dorking.surrey.sch.uk so we can put it in your guided reading book.

READING – 30 MINS

Read to an adult and get them to ask you lots of questions. Perhaps you could yourself a challenge of answering 6 questions correctly. If you do perhaps you could have some kind of reward!!!
