

Success Criteria

I understand that everyone goes through significant times in their own lives.

I know why it is important to remember these times.

My Life Journey

Why might a new year be a good time to look back and forward?

What might a religious person think about at these times?
