Dear Maple Class,

Hello everyone! I hope that you all had a good week and have managed to do some home learning, have some exercise in the fresh air and also lots of time to play.

I have been busy this week. I have been getting activities ready for you at home and also for the 3 days that I am going to be teaching in school this coming week. I also worked with Mr Read at the weekend to paint Sam's bedroom, which needed a huge tidy up too! This week's baking was lemon drizzle cake. Yummy! 😊

I have still been running or walking every day and I have enjoyed taking a moment to stop and notice all of the lovely things around me.

Every time I go past this log pile, it reminds me of 'The Gruffalo'!

What do you think?

It has been good to see how the chilli pepper and basil seeds I planted a couple of weeks ago have started to grow into small seedlings. I wonder how big they will get before I see you all again?

Have a good week with your families.

Love from Mrs Read x 😊
