

Ricky has broken his arm. He is thinking that it would be better if he didn't have any bones because then they couldn't break.

Using the comments from his friends show that you understand the function of the skeleton and why bones are important.

---

---

---

---